

Since 1944,

Seafood Producers Cooperative (SPC)

has been an independent fishermen-owned co-op producing the highest quality wild-caught salmon, halibut, sablefish, rockfish and more.

SPC represents:

- A community of small-boat fishermen working together to provide the best seafood
- Fishermen-owned pride: From boat to plate we own the process and take great satisfaction in serving our customers
- An unparalleled commitment to quality, sustainability, and traceability

Milestones:

1944 Co-op formed by West Coast fishermen

1980 Co-op built its Sitka, Alaska processing plant

Present The oldest and largest fishermen-owned co-op in North America

We have a large library of videos featuring our fishermen, boats, Alaska landscapes, and seafood recipes using our fish. Let us know if you'd like to use any of our photo and video assets. We're happy to work with you. Alaska Gold is our retail trade brand. You can find more examples of our video and photo assets at the below Alaska Gold Brand social media channels.
